Plans Under Way for Use Of Funds in City Schools

Various programs eligible for operation under federal funds are being considered for Circleville schools by principals, the administrative staff and school nurse under the direction of Superintendent Fritz Jacobs.

Jacobs said today that he and his group have been considering and planning programs for the past two months that would be eligible under Title I and Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. There is $58,990.43 in federal funds available to the district for the programming.

Guidelines for the presentation of programs to the State Department of Education have recently arrived. Jacobs and his staff plan to submit for consideration various plans that may be started and completed by the deadline of Aug. 31, 1966. In explaining the programs under Title I, Jacobs noted they must be directly related to assist children who are economically and educationally deprived. However, if an attendance area meets the criteria to qualify, other children in the school who are in need of such assistance may also be benefitted.

PROGRAMS for city school children which have been given high priority and which will be submitted for State Department consideration include:

1. A complete health program which would include physical examinations by local physicians, a follow-up regarding any medical needs including the providing of remedial services. Dental assistance including examination and treatment, vision testing including a follow-up which would involve the purchase of glasses and the like. Visits to the homes to consult with parents regarding the medical needs of the student, a provision made for clothing where needed and provision for psychological services.

2. To establish a remedial reading program as extensive as possible.

3. To provide for a remedial summer school, free of charge, in both elementary and secondary grades.

4. To provide educational television for areas that qualify that are not already served by this service. Beginning in September of 1966, Circleville will have educational television available in all schools — elementary, junior high and senior high.

5. To provide for an elementary librarian if one can be secured and if not, clerical help that will be able to carry on a program once instruction is given by the high school librarian.

6. CLERICAL assistance to relieve elementary schools so that principals and teachers may spend more time working with individual students who need additional help.

Although the programs under consideration are not all inclusive, they represent the major needs of the Circleville City Schools. They are ones which Superintendent Jacobs feels can be considered for approval and can be initiated and partially completed by the Aug. 31, 1966, deadline.

The following year it is hoped that monies under this act will be available for continuance of these programs. It must be pointed out that any which will qualify for federal funds must be in addition to those already in operation and cannot replace any existing program or service, Jacobs noted.

Minnesota Couple Nears 80th Wedding Anniversary

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Ole Sholberg, 103, and his wife, Otila, 101, who live contentedly while "waiting for the Lord to call us," observe their 80th wedding anniversary next Wednesday.

"We have never had a serious quarrel," said Mrs. Sholberg in a soft voice. "He has been a good man, and we have had a happy life. We still have a happy life."

Ole sat with his arm around Otila. His wife caressed his hand, and smiled.

Sholberg has poor hearing and vision. His face is strong, marbled by the winter spray of the North Sea, where as a boy in Norway he helped his father fish. There are lines, too, which somehow tell how he, as a frontier husband and father in western Minnesota, shielded his family from blizzards and forest fires.

Families of the couple came to the United States two years apart.

The couple met when Ole was a boy of 15. They were married seven years later, on Jan. 5, 1886.

Sholberg borrowed $100 as the down payment on a farm and hauled 60 loads of hay into town the first summer to pay for the lumber he used to build his first two-room home. Ole was a good carpenter, and he helped build many other pioneer homes.

The Sholbergs' six daughters and two sons will be with the couple to help observe the anniversary.

On Jan. 9, sitting in their tidy Fergus Falls home which Ole built when he was 80, the couple will listen by radio to a special service at Bethlehem Lutheran church, another building which Ole helped build. The service will be dedicated to the Sholbergs. Letters of congratulations, including one from President Johnson, will be read.

The Rev. Otto Dale, their pastor, says the Sholbergs are not afraid of death.

"They have had a long and glorious life," he said. "They have had a beautiful marriage."

Pets OK; Woman Dies after Fire

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Harry (Jean) Lisle smelled smoke in her two-story frame house. She called Alliance firemen, then ran outside.

But she remembered her dog, Terry, and cat were still inside so she ran back into the smoke-filled house to search for them.

She was taken to a hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation after the fire Wednesday. Today Mrs. Lisle, who had a heart condition, died of a cardiac failure.

Firemen rescued the dog and cat, both unconscious. Both were revived, the dog by a fireman who used artificial respiration.

Golda Meir Quits Post In Israel

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The world's only woman foreign minister, Golda Meir of Israel, is retiring at 67 after 10 years in office.

Mrs. Meir told a meeting of Parliament's Foreign Affairs and Security Committee Tuesday that she is quitting.

Authoritative sources said she would be succeeded by Deputy Premier Abba Eban, former ambassador to the United States and to the United Nations.

Mrs. Meir was appointed foreign minister in June 1966, capping a career that took her from a Milwaukee schoolroom to the major capitals of the world.

Born in Kiev, Russia, on May 8, 1898, she fled with her carpenter father and the rest of the family to the United States when she was 8. She attended primary and high schools in Milwaukee, Wis., and became a grade school teacher there. She also did library work in Milwaukee, Chicago and New York.

Taking an active interest in Zionism and socialism, she went to Palestine in 1921 with her husband, Morris Myerson. Then 23, she worked in a kibbutz (farm cooperative), helping raise poultry by day and studying Hebrew and Arabic by night.

State Foundation Payment Announced

Distribution of the December payment of State Foundation funds has been announced by George McDowell, Pickaway County superintendent of schools.

Of the $26,298.61 earmarked for county schools, Teays Valley will receive $11,211.18, Westfall $9,164.29 and Logan Elm, $5,213.14.

Withholding Tax Hike Is Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you get a higher-than-average paycheck, the government may soon be taking a bigger bite out of it in the form of increased income tax deductions.

This would be the principal effect of a proposed overhaul of the income tax withholding system. It also would mean lower deductions for those in the lower income brackets.

The change would substitute one of three graduated withholding rates for the present flat rate. It would not change income tax rates.

Treasury officials decline to discuss details. Presumably, the decision on whether to propose the change will be made by President Johnson. The ultimate decision will rest with Congress.

There is a possibility that the administration may use the withholding tax as an economic weapon just as it did in 1964. However, this time it would be employed to take more funds out of the hands of consumers to reduce the threat of inflation.

In 1964, the withholding rate was set lower than necessary in order to put more money in the hands of consumers quickly and eliminate a potential business letdown.

The amount of this "braking power" would not be great — perhaps $1 billion to $3 billion — but government economists may conclude that it is the handiest anti-inflation weapon available. Administration officials

Marcos Takes Philippine Oath

New Aid to Viet Allies Is Hinted

MANILA (AP) — Onetime guerrilla fighter Ferdinand E. Marcos took the oath as the sixth president of the Philippines today and pledged his nation to austerity at home and greater cooperation with free nations of Asia.

Vice President Hubert T. Humphrey represented the United States at the inauguration. A host of other dignitaries also attended the ceremonies, which drew 50,000 Filipinos to Luneta Park beside Manila Bay and millions more to radio and television sets.

Marcos, 48, startled the festive audience with a stern speech outlining the nation's economic and political ills.

He extolled the Philippines as a democratic example to unstable nations in Asia and pledged it would stand beside "every fighter for freedom." But he warned that the nation's coffers were empty and "hard decisions" — such as sending troops to Viet Nam — must be made for the national interest of the Philippines.

Before the election last month, Marcos said he opposed sending combat troops to Viet Nam although he favored enlarging the Philippine medical unit there. After the election, he indicated he had changed his mind and was in favor of sending a combat battalion.

He did not mention Viet Nam by name in his inaugural speech but noted that freedom in Asia was being seriously endangered. He said that free Asian nations need to consult more closely and coordinate their policies to insure freedom.

"Any threat to humanity in any area of the world is a threat to us all," he said.

Marcos said past Philippine governments had promised too much and delivered too little. He pledged a "rigorous policy of fiscal restraint" to restore the nation's finances and to crack down on corrupt officials who condone smuggling which he said costs the nation perhaps $200 million a year.

Off-Duty Fireman Drives Fire to Fire Station

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Firemen in Engine Co. 20 didn't have to go to a fire Wednesday. It came to them.

Off-duty fireman John Peters Jr. drove his automobile to the firehouse because the car's front seat was burning.

His fellow fire-fighters quickly extinguished the blaze.

The fire started when hot ashes from Peters' cigar fell onto the seat.

Gunpowder Strike Irks U.S. Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talks in the gunpowder strike that threatens some ammunition supplies to U.S. forces in Viet Nam continue today amid signs of growing government impatience.

After an implied federal deadline failed to break the deadlocked negotiations Wednesday, the Army announced it was reactivating a mothballed plant to make munitions.

"It looks like we've still got a lot of work to do," Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin said of the talks between three striking unions and the Olin Mathieson Co. plant in East Alton, Ill.

The plant has been making gunpowder used in machine-gun, rifle and tracer bullets, and 20mm cannon shells—all primary ammunition used by U.S. fighting men in the war against the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Although the Army said it was immediately starting reactivation of its Badger gunpowder plant in Baraboo, Wis. — idle the past eight years — the Pentagon said it would take six months to get it into production.

The plant is operated under contract by Olin Mathieson.

Federal officials would not say how low gunpowder stocks have dwindled in the 30-day East Alton strike, but warned of a critical shortage unless there was a settlement soon.

New Crisis Looms for Italians

ROME (AP) — Italy teetered today on the brink of a new political crisis after Premier Aldo Moro accepted Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani's resignation.

Moro had asked Fanfani to withdraw the resignation. Fanfani submitted it after he came under fire in connection with the report from his friend, Prof. Giorgio La Pira, of a peace feeler from Hanoi.

After Fanfani insisted he was determined to quit on Jan. 6, the premier accepted his resignation Wednesday night.

Political observers speculated that Fanfani either planned to stay in the background until the La Pira controversy cools off or would work actively to supplant the premier. Although a member of the Cabinet, Fanfani has long been one of Moro's main antagonists in their Christian Democratic party and in the center-left government.

Fanfani pioneered center-left collaboration between the Catholic Christian Democrats and the Socialists in a government coalition which Moro now heads. Fanfani's followers have long considered Moro too cautious.

Fanfani had said he was resigning to dissociate himself from criticisms La Pira made. CINCINNATI (AP) — The vacancy created by the death of U.S. Marshal Fred H. Hoh has been filled temporarily by the interim appointment of Robert A. Sack, 58, chief deputy for the past five years.

Johnson Peace Drive Pressed

U.S. Keeps Eye On North Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is watching North Viet Nam from the air during the lull in bombing.

Both the North Vietnamese and Communist Chinese governments have accused the United States of reconnaissance operations and other "provocations" since the bombing pause began last Friday.

But U.S. officials refuse to talk about aerial reconnaissance, just as they turn aside all questions about the bombing lull itself.

It is known, however, that U.S. Air Force and Navy photographic aircraft are continuing to range over North Vietnamese territory as a matter of what one source called military prudence.

Among other things, American reconnaissance craft are monitoring the progress made by the North Vietnamese in repairing damage inflicted by U.S. attacks before the air strikes were suspended.

Such reconnaissance tells American military authorities where the Communists are placing their priority efforts in reconstructing bridges, ferries and highways blasted by U.S. bombs and rockets.

This, in turn, will indicate targets likely to be hit first in any resumption of the bombing in the North.

American reconnaissance planes are believed checking on the volume of traffic moving along the routes leading toward South Viet Nam — traffic which for the first time since last May is free of harassment from the air.

Until the bombing pause, road movement in daylight had been brought to a standstill and night traffic was sharply reduced.

Another mission of the U.S. photographic planes is to spot any new installations of surface-to-air missiles.

In the five days just prior to the beginning of the pause, Air Force and Navy jets carried out nearly 600 combat sorties against targets in North Viet Nam.

A footnote: On the day before Christmas, in one of the last flights to the North, 5,000 Christmas gifts were parachuted for children in Communist North Viet Nam.

Cong Strikes New Blows in Saigon Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong struck today in and around Saigon, within the shadow of the big U.S. Marine base at Da Nang and near the Cambodian frontier. The stepped-up demonstration of their prowess came on the seventh day of the moratorium in the U.S. air war against the Communist North.

New evidence of Communist terror tactics was seen in the disclosure by a U.S. military spokesman that three captured U.S. Marines and eight South Vietnamese soldiers had been murdered after their capture in Quang Ngai Province on Dec. 16. The bodies were found in shallow graves and appeared to have been shot repeatedly in the head at close range.

The spokesman attributed the slayings to the 18th North Vietnamese Regiment in the area and said one of the victims — whose nationality was not disclosed — had been struck in the head with a sharp instrument.

In Saigon, a Vietnamese journalist whose pro-American articles brought him threats from the Viet Cong was shot to death this afternoon as he rode home by bicycle. Police said the newsman, Tu Chong, 35, of the daily newspaper Chinh Luan, was the first Saigon newspaperman the Communists had assassinated. The killer escaped.

Before dawn 500 Viet Cong drove a South Vietnamese militia company from a government strongpoint only 4 miles from the outer defenses of the big Marine base at Da Nang, 389 miles northeast of Saigon. It was the third time in 10 weeks that the Communists had overrun Hill 60.

Three companies of Vietnamese rangers tried to move in on the hill this afternoon but were pinned down by automatic weapons and mortars. Heavy rains prevented air strikes, but artillery pounded the Viet Cong.

In the western jungles of Chau Doc, along the Cambodian border, the Viet Cong tore into a Vietnamese company at an outpost, inflicted heavy casualties and came back an hour later to hit this one and a militia post in the vicinity. They poured 50-caliber machine-gun fire in a steady drone, then slipped away with some parting shots at flare planes.

Communist forces were on the move on the waterways 15 to 25 miles southeast of Saigon itself but were caught by three armed U. S. Army helicopters. In a running battle, the helicopters sank five sampans and one barge and killed eight Viet Cong, a spokesman reported.

The Reds renewed mortar and infantry attacks in Quang Ngai province 60 miles south of Da Nang after overrunning the district town of Minh Long Wednesday. Artillery and 42 tactical air strikes were directed.

2 U.S. Envoys Making Calls

Harriman, Goldberg Parley in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's peace offensive pushed ahead today as a hint of mystery surrounded the international travels of two U.S. ambassadors.

Presidential envoys W. Averell Harriman and Arthur J. Goldberg paid surprise calls at Warsaw and the Vatican, and were reported ready to carry the U.S. peace bid to other capitals before returning to America.

At the same time, Johnson dispatched his special assistant for national security affairs, McGeorge Bundy, to Canada to confer with Premier Lester Pearson, Canada, along with Poland and India, is a member of the International Control Commission on Viet Nam.

Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, met for one hour Wednesday with Pope Paul VI after arriving secretly aboard a presidential jet.

He told newsmen today that Johnson shared the Pope's desire to move "this grave conflict from the battlefield to the bargaining table where ultimately it will have to be resolved."

Roving Ambassador Harriman arrived unannounced in Warsaw aboard a U.S. Air Force jet and promptly met with Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki.

The U.S. Embassy said Harriman, at Johnson's request, gave the Polish government Washington's views on the Viet Nam situation.

Later in the day, Harriman left for Belgrade, capital of Communist Yugoslavia, in his quest for ways to end the fighting in Viet Nam.

Yugoslavia is leader of a group of nonaligned nations favoring Viet Nam negotiations. Poland has relations with Communist North Viet Nam and is on the three-nation International Control Commission dealing with Viet Nam.

There was speculation that Harriman also might visit Hungary, another third-party channel to Hanoi.

The peace quest by the two Americans was backed by the halt since Christmas in the bombing of North Viet Nam targets and by behind-the-scenes Washington efforts to probe for any peace feelers from Hanoi.

Still, their efforts came in the face of a chilling blast from the No. 1 target, Hanoi, capital of Communist North Viet Nam.

North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh denounced "U.S. imperialist aggressors" Wednesday and, in a reply to a message from the Pope, declared "the U.S. leaders want war and not peace."

"The talks about unconditional negotiations made by the U.S. president," Ho charged, "are merely a maneuver to cover up his plan for war intensification and extension in Viet Nam."

U.S. diplomats rated Ho's statement, as broadcast by Radio Hanoi Wednesday as harsh, uncompromising and unchanged from his stand in the past.

Nevertheless, they refused to accept the public North Vietnamese utterance as a final response to U.S. diplomatic efforts now under way. Some U.S. sources figure that in private soundings, Hanoi might be more likely to come through with a reply which could lead to negotiations.

Johnson promised in a Dec. 9 speech to exhaust every peace effort "before other hard steps are taken."

III Wind Blows Lots Of No-Good Money

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — A $50 bill blew past a construction project. Then another. Then a $20 bill.

That started workers on a lively hunt Wednesday that turned up a shoebox stuffed with $40,000 of the bills. The money turned out to be bogus, the Solano County sheriff's office said.

The FBI is investigating.

Plans Under Way for Use Of Funds in City Schools

Various programs eligible for operation under federal funds are being considered for Circleville schools by principals, the administrative staff and school nurse under the direction of Superintendent Fritz Jacobs.

Jacobs said today that he and his group have been considering and planning programs for the past two months that would be eligible under Title I and Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. There is $58,990.43 in federal funds available to the district for the programming.

Guidelines for the presentation of programs to the State Department of Education have recently arrived. Jacobs and his staff plan to submit for consideration various plans that may be started and completed by the deadline of Aug. 31, 1966. In explaining the programs under Title I, Jacobs noted they must be directly related to assist children who are economically and educationally deprived. However, if an attendance area meets the criteria to qualify, other children in the school who are in need of such assistance may also be benefited.

PROGRAMS for city school children which have been given high priority and which will be submitted for State Department consideration include:

1. A complete health program which would include physical examinations by local physicians, a follow-up regarding any medical needs, including the providing of remedial services. Dental assistance including examination and treatment, vision testing including a follow-up which would involve the purchase of glasses and the like. Visits to the homes to consult with parents regarding the medical needs of the student, a provision made for clothing where needed and provision for psychological services.

2. To establish a remedial reading program as extensive as possible.

3. To provide for a remedial summer school, free of charge, in both elementary and secondary grades.

4. To provide educational television for areas that qualify that are not already served by this service. Beginning in September of 1966, Circleville will have educational television available in all schools — elementary, junior high and senior high.

5. To provide for an elementary librarian if one can be secured and if not, clerical help that will be able to carry on a program once instruction is given by the high school librarian.

6. CLERICAL assistance to relieve elementary schools so that principals and teachers may spend more time working with individual students who need additional help.

Although the programs under consideration are not all in clusive, they represent the major needs of the Circleville City Schools. They are ones which Superintendent Jacobs feels can be considered for approval and can be initiated and partially completed by the Aug. 31, 1966, deadline.

The following year it is hoped that monies under this act will be available for continuance of these programs. It must be pointed out that any which will qualify for federal funds must be in addition to those already in operation and cannot replace any existing program or service, Jacobs noted.

It is known, however, that U.S. Air Force and Navy photographic aircraft are continuing to range over North Vietnamese territory as a matter of what one source called military prudence.

Among other things, American reconnaissance craft are monitoring the progress made by the North Vietnamese in repairing damage inflicted by U.S. attacks before the air strikes were suspended.

Such reconnaissance tells American military authorities where the Communists are placing their priority efforts in reconstructing bridges, ferries and highways blasted by U.S. bombs and rockets.

This, in turn, will indicate targets likely to be hit first in any resumption of the bombing in the North.

American reconnaissance planes are believed checking on the volume of traffic moving along the routes leading toward South Viet Nam — traffic which for the first time since last May is free of harassment from the air.

Until the bombing pause, road movement in daylight had been brought to a standstill and night traffic was sharply reduced.

Another mission of the U.S. photographic planes is to spot any new installations of surface-to-air missiles.

In the five days just prior to the beginning of the pause, Air Force and Navy jets carried out nearly 600 combat sorties against targets in North Viet Nam.

A footnote: On the day before Christmas, in one of the last flights to the North, 5,000 Christmas gifts were parachuted for children in Communist North Viet Nam.

Cong Strikes New Blows in Saigon Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong struck today in and around Saigon, within the shadow of the big U.S. Marine base at Da Nang and near the Cambodian frontier. The stepped-up demonstration of their prowess came on the seventh day of the moratorium in the U.S. air war against the Communist North.

New evidence of Communist terror tactics was seen in the disclosure by a U.S. military spokesman that three captured U.S. Marines and eight South Vietnamese soldiers had been murdered after their capture in Quang Ngai Province on Dec. 16. The bodies were found in shallow graves and appeared to have been shot repeatedly in the head at close range.

The spokesman attributed the slayings to the 18th North Vietnamese Regiment in the area and said one of the victims — whose nationality was not disclosed — had been struck in the head with a sharp instrument.

In Saigon, a Vietnamese journalist whose pro-American articles brought him threats from the Viet Cong was shot to death this afternoon as he rode home by bicycle. Police said the newsman, Tu Chong, 35, of the daily newspaper Chinh Luan, was the first Saigon newspaperman the Communists had assassinated. The killer escaped.

Before dawn 500 Viet Cong drove a South Vietnamese militia company from a government stronghold only 4 miles from the outer defenses of the big Marine base at Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon. It was the third time in 10 weeks that the Communists had overrun Hill 60.

Three companies of Vietnamese rangers tried to move in on the hill this afternoon but were pinned down by automatic weapons and mortars. Heavy rains prevented air strikes, but artillery pounded the Viet Cong.

In the western jungles of Chau Doc, along the Cambodian border, the Viet Cong tore into a Vietnamese company at an outpost, inflicted heavy casualties and came back an hour later to hit this one and a militia post in the vicinity. They poured 50-caliber machine-gun fire in a steady drone, then slipped away with some parting shots at flare planes.

Communist forces were on the move on the waterways 15 to 25 miles southeast of Saigon itself but were caught by three armed U.S. Army helicopters. In a running battle, the helicopters sank five sampans and one barge and killed eight Viet Cong, a spokesman reported.

The Reds renewed mortar and infantry attacks in Quang Ngai province 60 miles south of Da Nang after overrunning the district town of Minh Long Wednesday. Artillery and 42 tactical air strikes were directed.

2 U.S. Envoys Making Calls

Harriman, Goldberg Parley in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's peace offensive pushed ahead today as a hint of mystery surrounded the international travels of two U.S. ambassadors.

Presidential envoys W. Averell Harriman and Arthur J. Goldberg paid surprise calls at Warsaw and the Vatican, and were reported ready to carry the U.S. peace bid to other capitals before returning to America.

At the same time, Johnson dispatched his special assistant for national security affairs, McGeorge Bundy, to Canada to confer with Premier Lester Pearson. Canada, along with Poland and India, is a member of the International Control Commission on Viet Nam.

Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, met for one hour Wednesday with Pope Paul VI after arriving secretly aboard a presidential jet.

He told newsmen today that Johnson shared the Pope's desire to move "this grave conflict from the battlefield to the bargaining table where ultimately it will have to be resolved."

Roving Ambassador Harriman arrived unannounced in Warsaw aboard a U.S. Air Force jet and promptly met with Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki.

The U.S. Embassy said Harriman, at Johnson's request, gave the Polish government Washington's views on the Viet Nam situation.

Later in the day, Harriman left for Belgrade, capital of Communist Yugoslavia, in his quest for ways to end the fighting in Viet Nam.

Yugoslavia is leader of a group of nonaligned nations favoring Viet Nam negotiations. Poland has relations with Communist North Viet Nam and is on the three-nation International Control Commission dealing with Viet Nam.

There was speculation that Harriman also might visit Hungary, another third-party channel to Hanoi.

The peace quest by the two Americans was backed by the halt since Christmas in the bombing of North Viet Nam targets and by behind-the-scenes Washington efforts to probe for any peace feelers from Hanoi.

Still, their efforts came in the face of a chilling blast from the No. 1 target, Hanoi, capital of Communist North Viet Nam.

North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh denounced "U.S. imperialist aggressors" Wednesday and, in a reply to a message from the Pope, declared "the U.S. leaders want war and not peace."

"The talks about unconditional negotiations made by the U.S. president," Ho charged, "are merely a maneuver to cover up his plan for war intensification and extension in Viet Nam."

U.S. diplomats rated Ho's statement, as broadcast by Radio Hanoi Wednesday as harsh, uncompromising and unchanged from his stand in the past.

Nevertheless, they refused to accept the public North Vietnamese utterance as a final response to U.S. diplomatic efforts now under way. Some U.S. sources figure that in private soundings, Hanoi might be more likely to come through with a reply which could lead to negotiations.

Johnson promised in a Dec. 9 speech to exhaust every peace effort "before other hard steps are taken."

Withholding Tax Hike Is Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you get a higher-than-average paycheck, the government may soon be taking a bigger bite out of it in the form of increased income tax deductions.

This would be the principal effect of a proposed overhaul of the income tax withholding system. It also would mean lower deductions for those in the lower income brackets.

The change would substitute one of three graduated withholding rates for the present flat rate. It would not change income tax rates.

Treasury officials decline to discuss details. Presumably, the decision on whether to propose the change will be made by President Johnson. The ultimate decision will rest with Congress.

There is a possibility that the administration may use the withholding tax as an economic weapon just as it did in 1964. However, this time it would be employed to take more funds out of the hands of consumers to reduce the threat of inflation.

In 1964, the withholding rate was set lower than necessary in order to put more money in the hands of consumers quickly and eliminate a potential business letdown.

The amount of this "braking power" would not be great — perhaps $1 billion to $3 billion — but government economists may conclude that it is the handiest anti-inflation weapon available. Administration officials believe it would be more acceptable to Congress than an income tax increase.

Last year, middle- and upper-bracket taxpayers complained that the 1964 withholding was too low — many were left with sizeable tax bills when settlement time rolled around.

Regardless of the economic effects, a Treasury official said, the primary objective of any change would be to bring the withholding rate more closely in line with the actual tax.

U.S. Capital Is in Strange, Silent Mood

WASHINGTON (AP) — This world capital is in a strange, sombre, silent mood as 1966 approaches. It is as if everybody were listening — and fearing that what he may hear will spell evil.

Washington exists in a sort of state of suspended animation, enduring what might be called "The days of the great pause." To be sure, the usual tourist groups rubberneck at the White House in the nippy winter sunshine. But there is less than the usual craning of necks — no expectancy that a tall man will lunge out and shake hands. LBJ is away on the Pedernales.

On Capitol Hill, the cacophony of Congress has been stilled since October and won't resume until Jan. 10. There too, is a sense of monumental emptiness, of marble halls devoid of the deliberations for which they were built.

The city, of course, is preparing to ring out the old. For $25 per person a big hotel will provide fillet mignon, music, paper hats and noisemakers. Drinks will be extra, $1.25 apiece if not too fancy.

But nobody's heart seems to be in this merriment. On practically all minds and lips are the two words "Viet Nam."

And what is everybody — from the President in Texas to the lowliest clerk in the Pentagon — listening for?

They are straining to catch a favorable word, a promising sign, from Ho Chi Minh, President of North Viet Nam — something more pacific than his declaration Wednesday that "U.S. leaders want war and not peace."

The old (75), wispy oriental with the straggly beard may influence vastly, from his capital 8,000 miles away, the history of the United States, if not the world.

For example, he may determine whether energy and money are drained away from the proposed "Great Society" into an escalating war. It is up to him, really, to say whether some school dropout in Harlem shall be trained at a federal-financed lathe or left to his fate on slum sidewalks; whether some newly married Kansas farm youth shall be drafted away from his bride and sent to jungle war.

Meanwhile, the President prolongs the Christmas cessation of the bombing of North Viet Nam targets. He delays decision on his budget, which may total $110 billion or more and bring a possible tax increase. He is waiting to see whether North Viet Nam shows interest in peace negotiations.

Signs multiply that something big could be brewing. Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, remarkable septuagenarian with a knack for dickering with the world's great, is in Warsaw, Poland, traditional rendezvous spot for Red Chinese and Western diplomats. Russia will send a high-level mission to Hanoi. The Pope has committed himself to attempt to mediate, and Johnson has sent Arthur J. Goldberg, ambassador to the United Nations, to see the pontiff.

Ohio Inmate Is Placed in Mental Ward

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An inmate who broke from a blood donor line and took a woman Red Cross worker as a hostage was in the state penitentiary's mental ward today.

Warden Ernie Maxwell said charges against Raymond Farra, 30, would not be filed until completion of a Highway Patrol investigation of the apparent escape attempt.

Mrs. Velma Graves of Columbus, who has been visiting the hospital since 1943 in connection with the prison's blood donor program, was Farra's hostage during the brief incident Wednesday.

Farra held a knife at her throat and backed up two flights of stairs before guards were able to overpower him. Guard Robert Shoemaker was working on the third floor when he saw the pair backing up the stairway.

He suffered a cut on the arm while he and other guards grappled with Farra, the warden said.

Farra also had a can of lighter fluid in his hand and was carrying a cigarette lighter which guards said he apparently intended to use as a sort of fire bomb. The knife was described as being homemade.

Farra served time in Tennessee and Indiana prisons before being committed here for auto theft in Gallia County.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Clarence H. Knisley, former Democratic state treasurer, announced today for the unexpired term as state auditor ending next Jan. 9, 1967.

The short term auditor elected next November will serve until the regular four-year term begins the following January.

Roger Cloud, Republican former Ohio House speaker, was appointed Sept. 20 as state auditor. Cloud said he also would seek election to the short term, as well as the full four-year term, if Democrats filed for the short term.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A father and his 7-year-old son died early today in a fire at their home. The mother and five other children escaped from the burning house unhurt.

Victims were John Perryman Sr., 33, and John Perryman Jr., 7. Firemen found the bodies in a closet on the second floor of the house, the boy clutched in his father's arms. They apparently died of asphyxiation.

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Episcopal Bishop James Pike of California today urged Britain and the United Nations to use force to overthrow the white Rhodesian government of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Bishop Pike, an advocate of racial equality, was expelled from Rhodesia Wednesday night after only 10 hours in the central African territory. He had planned to stay two weeks to study racial problems.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is easing controls on travel by professional people to some Communist nations.

On the list are Red China, North Viet Nam, North Korea, Cuba and Albania. Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the action is designed to permit doctors and medical scientists to travel in those countries for professional purposes.

However, he said U.S. permission does not mean automatic travel freedom, for the point of destination also must give its permission.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel has expressed concern over the U.S. supply of weapons to Arab states.

Israeli Ambassador Avraham Harman met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk for 45 minutes Wednesday, then told newsmen he sought the session to review "particularly the recent acceleration in pace and scope of the rearmament of Arab countries which gives us considerable concern."

Harman declined to elaborate, but in November, the United States joined with Britain in offering to sell Saudi Arabia $200 million worth of airplanes, anti-aircraft missiles and radar equipment.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission believes nuclear power plants will be furnishing the electricity needs of more than 2 million Americans by the end of 1966.

In a year-end statement, Seaborg predicted further that the figure will reach 60 million persons by 1980.

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Eight workers were killed when police opened fire Wednesday night on rioting strikers at India's first atomic power project under construction at Tarapur, 60 miles north of Bombay, officials announced today.

The shooting took place after police failed to subdue the rioters with heavy sticks and tear gas. About 50 policemen and 18 strikers were hurt and 36 strikers were arrested.

The strike, by about 4,000 workers, began Dec. 9 and involves union representation.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A high Indian government source says Communist China is supplying Pakistan with large quantities of arms and already has equipped a new army division with medium artillery.

Select Stocks Up Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines and selected issues were up sharply as the stock market advanced early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Airlines continued their snap-back of Wednesday from recent heavy profit taking.

Aerospace defense issues improved fractionally despite the U.S. peace offensive.

Big Three motors were higher, along with drugs, color televisions, other electronics, rails, chemicals, utilities and nonferrous metals.

The rise of the consumer price index to another record in November was regarded as bullish background for the stock market.

Wall Streeters expected that in the final two sessions of 1965 demand for blue chips would be fairly strong because of the desire of investment funds to beef up their portfolios.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.1 at 356.48 with industrials up 1.8, rails up .3 and utilities up .4.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.17 to 964.47 at noon.

It is possible that the services, once approved for the Circleville City Schools, may also serve those children attending the parochial school who live in the Circleville City School District. It will be the responsibility of the county schools to serve their children who attend the local parochial school, Jacobs pointed out.

It cannot be determined at this time how long it will take to receive final approval once the applications are submitted to the State Department of Education, the superintendent said.

Comprehensive basic data regarding the local school system must be submitted prior to any official application. However, Jacobs is confident at least one or two of the programs will be approved and completed by the end of the summer of 1966.

Considerable time and effort has been spent, according to Jacobs, in analyzing the needs of the eligible students to be served under these programs and the completion of approved programs is intended to provide a better educational opportunity for economically and educationally deprived students.

ATTENDANCE areas eligible for such programs will be those that have at least a percentage of educationally deprived students equal to the percentage of the entire school district.

According to official statistics provided by the U. S. Office of Education, Circleville City Schools have 267 students who are identified economically and educationally deprived in the entire school district. This is the figure on which the allocated funds is based.

Superintendent Jacobs has attended numerous meetings at the state level where guidelines and other necessary information needed for the submission of applications has been thoroughly discussed. This information will prove valuable as projects are considered for this school system, he explained.

All programs mentioned here are subject to approval of the federal agency responsible for Title I and Title II Programs, Jacobs said.

Title I deals primarily with programs for educationally deprived children. Title II deals with the improvement of libraries by providing additional funds for library book purchases on a per pupil basis.

Hanoi broadcasts today did not acknowledge the bombing lull but instead emphasized reports of the unabated U. S. and South Vietnamese air action against the guerrillas in the South. These attacks "obviously contrast with U. S. authorities' allegations of peace and negotiations," one broadcast said.

Ohio Inmate Is Placed in Mental Ward

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An inmate who broke from a blood donor line and took a woman Red Cross worker as a hostage was in the state penitentiary's mental ward today.

Warden Ernie Maxwell said charges against Raymond Farra, 30, would not be filed until completion of a Highway Patrol investigation of the apparent escape attempt.

Mrs. Velma Graves of Columbus, who has been visiting the hospital since 1943 in connection with the prison's blood donor program, was Farra's hostage during the brief incident Wednesday.

Farra held a knife at her throat and backed up two flights of stairs before guards were able to overpower him. Guard Robert Shoemaker was working on the third floor when he saw the pair backing up the stairway.

He suffered a cut on the arm while he and other guards grappled with Farra, the warden said.

Farra also had a can of lighter fluid in his hand and was carrying a cigarette lighter which guards said he apparently intended to use as a sort of fire bomb. The knife was described as being homemade.

Farra served time in Tennessee and Indiana prisons before being committed here for auto theft in Gallia County.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Clarence H. Knisley, former Democratic state treasurer, announced today for the unexpired term as state auditor ending next Jan. 9, 1967.

The short term auditor elected next November will serve until the regular four-year term begins the following January.

Roger Cloud, Republican former Ohio House speaker, was appointed Sept. 20 as state auditor. Cloud said he also would seek election to the short term, as well as the full four-year term, if Democrats filed for the short term.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A father and his 7-year-old son died early today in a fire at their home. The mother and five other children escaped from the burning house unhurt.

Victims were John Perryman Sr., 33, and John Perryman Jr. Firemen found the bodies in a closet on the second floor of the house, the boy clutched in his father's arms. They apparently died of asphyxiation.

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Episcopal Bishop James Pike of California today urged Britain and the United Nations to use force to overthrow the white Rhodesian government of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Bishop Pike, an advocate of racial equality, was expelled from Rhodesia Wednesday night after only 10 hours in the central African territory. He had planned to stay two weeks to study racial problems.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is easing controls on travel by professional people to some Communist nations.

On the list are Red China, North Viet Nam, North Korea, Cuba and Albania.

Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the action is designed to permit doctors and medical scientists to travel in those countries for professional purposes.

However, he said U.S. permission does not mean automatic travel freedom, for the point of destination also must give its permission.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel has expressed concern over the U.S. supply of weapons to Arab states.

Israeli Ambassador Avraham Harman met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk for 45 minutes Wednesday, then told newsmen he sought the session to review "particularly the recent acceleration in pace and scope of the rearmament of Arab countries which gives us considerable concern."

Harman declined to elaborate, but in November, the United States joined with Britain in offering to sell Saudi Arabia $200 million worth of airplanes, anti-aircraft missiles and radar equipment.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission believes nuclear power plants will be furnishing the electricity needs of more than 2 million Americans by the end of 1966.

In a year-end statement, Seaborg predicted further that the figure will reach 60 million persons by 1980.

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Eight workers were killed when police opened fire Wednesday night on rioting strikers at India's first atomic power project under construction at Tarapur, 60 miles north of Bombay, officials announced today.

The shooting took place after police failed to subdue the rioters with heavy sticks and tear gas. About 50 policemen and 18 strikers were hurt and 36 strikers were arrested.

The strike, by about 4,000 workers, began Dec. 9 and involves union representation.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A high Indian government source says Communist China is supplying Pakistan with large quantities of arms and already has equipped a new army division with medium artillery.

Select Stocks Up Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines and selected issues were up sharply as the stock market advanced early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Airlines continued their snapback of Wednesday from recent heavy profit taking.

Aerospace defense issues improved fractionally despite the U.S. peace offensive.

Big Three motors were higher, along with drugs, color televisions, other electronics, rails, chemicals, utilities and nonferrous metals.

The rise of the consumer price index to another record in November was regarded as the bullish background for the stock market.

Wall Streeters expected that in the final two sessions of 1965 demand for blue chips would be fairly strong because of the desire of investment funds to beef up their portfolios.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.1 at 356.8 with utilities up 1.8, rails up .3 and industrials up 1.4.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.17 to 964.47 at noon.

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The gubernatorial campaign of Democratic State Rep. Harry H. McIlwain of Cincinnati is moving on with the formation of a Southern Ohio McIlwain for Governor Committee.

Norman Hempstead, an associate of the Hamilton County Democrat, said Wednesday the committee will elect officers in the next few weeks. The group is being organized in 29 counties south of U.S. 40, he added.

personnel and with the Rev. Thomas Bender, principal of Bishop Flaget High School, Chillicothe, who has been assigned to work with the local schools representing the parochial school area that serves Pickaway County.

It is possible that the services, once approved for the Circleville City Schools, may also serve those children attending the parochial school who live in the Circleville City School District. It will be the responsibility of the county schools to serve their children who attend the local parochial school, Jacobs pointed out.

It cannot be determined at this time how long it will take to receive final approval once the applications are submitted to the State Department of Education, the superintendent said.

Comprehensive basic data regarding the local school system must be submitted prior to any official application. However, Jacobs is confident at least one or two of the programs will be approved and completed by the end of the summer of 1966.

Considerable time and effort has been spent, according to Jacobs, in analyzing the needs of the eligible students to be served under these programs and the completion of approved programs is intended to provide a better educational opportunity for economically and educationally deprived students.

 ATTENDANCE areas eligible for such programs will be those that have at least a percentage of educationally deprived students equal to the percentage of the entire school district.

According to official statistics provided by the U. S. Office of Education, Circleville City Schools have 267 students who are identified economically and educationally deprived in the entire school district. This is the figure on which the allocated funds is based.

Superintendent Jacobs has attended numerous meetings at the state level where guidelines and other necessary information needed for the submission of applications has been thoroughly discussed. This information will prove valuable as projects are considered for this school system, he explained.

All programs mentioned here are subject to approval of the federal agency responsible for Title I and Title II Programs. Jacobs said.

Title I deals primarily with programs for educationally deprived children. Title II deals with the improvement of libraries by providing additional funds for library book purchases on a per pupil basis.

Accusation Filed

A bastardy accusation was filed against a local man today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Plaintiff of the suit is Beatrice Ellen Hutchinson, 225 Pearl St. She named Guy Emerson Thompson, Circleville, as defendant in the court proceedings.

Higher Income, Costlier Living Expected in '66

NEW YORK (AP) — Costlier living but fatter paychecks from more jobs and only an off chance of shortages in goods — that's the outlook for most Americans in 1966.

The tax burden will be heavier. At the federal level Social Security withholding will be larger, and rising government spending might force other tax increases before the year is out. At the state and local levels, many communities are likely to collect more to meet growing expenditures.

But the Viet Nam war, plus whatever's left over for the Great Society, seems sure to tighten the labor market and keep most Americans busy — and as affluent as ever. Borrowing will cost more, and so may goods and services.

Here's the 1966 outlook for your job, pay and taxes, and for the cost of food, clothing, shelter, cars, appliances and services.

JOB — The worry suddenly turns to shortages of skilled workers after years of strictly high employment.

The new year will start with the jobless rate at the lowest level in years and with almost one million more teen-agers at work than a year ago. The Viet Nam war promises to increase demand for factory goods, as well as draw more youths into the armed forces. Corporations are competing with each other to hire workers in some of the more highly skilled trades. Labor ferment in 1965 saw some 20 million man days of production lost in strikes, the highest in six years. Wage scales have been rising more than in the previous two years.

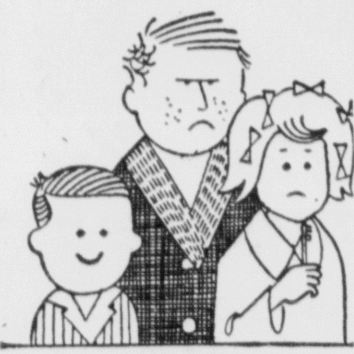

PERSONAL INCOMES — Another big rise is in the making. Economists are talking about the total hitting $560 billion in 1966, compared with $417 billion in 1961. It crossed the $500 billion line early in 1965. Full employment plus rising wage scales should keep the pocket-book boom going. Income from higher interest rates and larger dividends will help many persons. Larger Social Security checks will help others. But hopes that another tax cut might add to take home pay are fading fast. There's more likely to be a further tax drain on the family budget instead.

LIVING COSTS — It's getting harder to hold them down. From 1960 to mid-1965 the average costs of goods and services went up less than 1.5 per cent a year. Then consumer and industrial prices started climbing. The government appealed to businessmen to hold prices down. But as demand for goods rises and the excess industrial capacity shrinks, and wage scales climb, the pressure on prices increases. In 1966 you'll be paying more for a lot of things, such as overcoats, men's suits, shoes, and doubtless more, too, for many services.

FOOD — Tighter supplies develop where shortages once ruled.

Hogs are bringing the highest prices since 1952. Choice grades of beef are up. The government is releasing some of its stockpile of high protein wheat to hold down the price of flour and bread. The government's index of food prices stood at 109.7 in October, against 106.9 the previous year. But even so, the rise in food prices was less steep than that in services, such as medical care. Americans spent about $86 billion for food in 1965. Another 6 per cent rise in outlay is expected in 1966.

HOUSES — Still a holdout in the prosperity parade. Lagging for two years, the Farm Review Crop Controls Seen Eased in 1966 Season

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is speculation in farm circles that, in view of increasing world food needs, the United States will ease some of its crop production controls before the 1966 planting season.

However, Agriculture Department officials say that production programs outlined for the coming year still stand. But they add there still is ample time to make changes in the event demands should warrant.

Typical of the speculation is a statement of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association at St. Paul, Minn., an organization which has been urging greater food production in this country.

"As they plan next year's production on acres severely cut back from normal, farmers wonder how long these cutbacks can go on with stockpiles dwindling fast and two-thirds of the world pleading for more food," the statement said.

As have a number of farm commodity newsletters, the association said it expects the government will encourage a larger production of soybeans next year.

Sources close to the administration's farm policy makers say they are inclined to believe that any sizable government action to step up farm production will not come before 1967. They say that reserve supplies, together with the prospective needs from presently outlined crop production plans, should be ample to meet needs during the 1966 crop marketing year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Association has announced it will hold its 69th annual convention in Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 24-25. Officials expect more than 2,000 cattlemen to attend.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal grade standards for feeder pigs become effective Saturday. Five standards will be U.S. No. 1, U.S. No. 2, U.S. No. 3, medium and cull. These grade names are the same as those for slaughter hogs and pork carcasses. The standards are designed to evaluate pigs on their logical slaughter potential.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) reported today that rural electric cooperatives passed along $4,793,000 in reduced power rates to their consumers during the fiscal year which ended June 30. The agency said total savings during the past four years was $12,500,000.

sales rise. Consumers seem just as confident they'll be making more and willing to spend more — and will be demanding more, both in goods and services, and in quality.

Here comes a New Year! And here's hoping it rings in good health, good luck and good cheer. Our thanks to all of you, whose friendly favor we highly value.

The New Year

A new year begins any day or any second. The particular tick of the clock observed today has varied throughout recorded history. Years start at other times by the customs of races, religions, governments and business groups.

But the stroke of midnight is as good a time as any to hail a new milestone of Time with hilarity and to reflect with hope or gloom upon the future.

There is room for both hope and gloom. Every normal youngster looks ahead with joyous anticipation. Those in their declining years are affected by more doleful thoughts of physical disintegration. And brooding over every human, young or old, is the prospect for the coming generations. Is the wave of the future attuned to weal or woe?

List of No-Resolves for 1966

NEW YORK (AP) — Having trouble making your annual New Year resolutions?

Maybe you're trying to reform yourself too fast. It can be overcome, you know.

There is no point in making 1,001 vows on things you are going to do next year to make yourself a better person. This only creates laughter in heaven, as the angels know no man can become that perfect.

If you must make positive vows, keep them few and simple, such as, "I hereby resolve to eat regularly in 1966 and try in every way possible to inherit as much money as I can."

A better way is to take a negative attitude.

Man can be happy about the reach for good will among the tribes of a world that is now small. It isn't difficult to be gloomy about man's yester-years that produced the international passions and devastating weapons of today.

However dark a picture is drawn, there is the reassuring knowledge that the human species has survived all previous eras of darkness and emerged into succeeding periods of enlightenment. That is because there is enough capacity for good deeds in the species to thwart any minions of evil.

Thoreau once exclaimed: "As if you could kill time without injuring eternity!" That is a sufficient New Year thought for any man.

By Hal Boyle

For example, I have pledged myself in 1966 never to — Buy the Brooklyn Bridge, unless they gift-wrap it. Beat my wife or the family cat.

Take stock market tips from strangers.

Learn to play the zither.

Tell the neighbors how to deal with their teen-age children.

Purchase a charming old house in the suburbs and do it over myself.

Eat caviar, except on doctor's orders.

Follow any program of exercises that requires more than 10 knee bends a month.

Ask anyone at a cocktail party why he is for or against our policy in Viet Nam.

Borrow money from anyone except a known enemy. None of my known friends ever seem to have any cash.

Well, that's one man's program for self-improvement in 1966. It may not improve a fellow's character much, but it will help keep him from wasting his time in nonsensical ways — and that's a big step forward to take in any year.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of living is higher now for most American families than ever before. Most base their planning on the likelihood it will go still higher.

This is the simple arithmetic of family budgets. The variations in the government's monthly Consumer Price Index seem to make little difference. Nor is the current hassle over the need to ward off further monetary inflation likely to mean much to most families.

What does matter is the monthly bills. And, for one reason or another, they tend to be higher.

The government's Consumer Price Index, nicknamed the cost of living index, marks the average across the country of the cost of goods and services the typical family is presumed to buy.

Some prices are fairly stable across the land, but others vary from region to region, city to city. Transportation costs, rents, even interest charges on mortgages vary, for example. And so the government index for your region may be higher or lower than the average for the nation as a whole.

Prices of a few basic items are lower now than a few years back. Then why does the family outlay always seem to climb a bit year after year?

I've eaten shell fish all my life and have never had any trouble. Last week I ate six shrimp and suddenly my lips and face blew up like a balloon. When this finally left me, my whole head and face began to itch and burn. How can this happen after so many years? Will the same thing happen if I try to eat sea food again?

E. M., Virginia

Dear Mr. M.: The condition you describe is almost a textbook picture of a severe allergic reaction. It is called angioneurotic edema, which is a severe, sudden swelling of the lips, skin and mucous membrane lining of the mouth.

Such a reaction is almost always due to an allergy to food, and in your case to sea food. Sometimes a straw berries, pork, serum, drugs and penicillin can produce a severe allergic swelling.

It is often difficult to find the offending substance as quickly as you did. It is not unusual to develop allergic symptoms after many years of eating familiar foods. Yet this does occur occasionally, because of a sensitivity to a combination of foods rather than to a single one.

The possibility that you will have a similar reaction to sea food is sufficiently great to warrant avoiding it. Consultation with a physician who specializes in allergy may pinpoint the exact food offender by skin testing. It is possible to desensitize people to foods that produce giant hives and swelling.

I have just been told that I have a hiatus hernia. I am terrified. What causes it? Is an operation necessary?

Dear Mrs. D.: When patients are told that they have a disorder that needs attention, the medical consultation is not complete until all their questions are thoroughly answered. A hiatus hernia is an enlarged opening in the diaphragm that separates the abdomen from the chest cavity. The esophagus, the tube which carries food from the mouth to the stomach, passes through the diaphragm.

When the diaphragmatic opening is enlarged, the stomach can push up through the diaphragm into the chest cavity.

LBJ Faces Tough Year

Lyndon Johnson seems more preoccupied than usual when he faces the TV camera these days. Small wonder — a profoundly political animal, he has always been able to find the secret lever of control inside his own country. But his tax and money troubles and his Democratic Party troubles are now dependent on the course of a distant war, and Ho Chi Minh is sitting on the lever. The tax and money troubles are particularly aggravating because they will almost certainly force a retraction of a great promise. After the income tax cut, it was generally understood that there would be a new installment on tax remission each year. The excise tax cut followed, and automobile buyers in 1966 will still be getting the benefit of a progressive provision in the excise allowance but what else will be coming in 1966, which is an election year, yet?

The small businessmen of America, who account for the employment of more than 30 million people, are already complaining that welfare taxes are going to make business expansion difficult for them in 1966. In January the Social Security bite on payrolls goes up. The crunch will be felt in February, when the first installment of the increased tax becomes payable. If the tax could be passed along to the consumer, that would be one thing. But small business is competitive business and the market controls its prices. The consumer is also bound to feel the effect of his own share of the increased Social Security bite on his purchasing power.

This past year Johnson has been supporting his freshmen Congressmen with rather lavish patronage gifts. One particular Democratic freshman from Illinois boasts that he got 11 new post offices for his district where his Republican predecessor only managed to win four in a long career. Others among the 48 Democratic freshmen have been doing almost as well. But, with the Vietnam war threatening to force a Pentagon budget of $60 billion, this sort of munificence can hardly continue. The freshmen Congressmen are having other troubles. A Long Island Representative, inviting his constituents to meet with him for a talk, found himself in the middle of a hectic argument about the war, with shouts going up that Johnson had taken over the Goldwater policy. The Republicans in the district, who had seen their own candidate beaten on the Goldwater issue, are keeping their peace and smiling.

So the efforts of the Democratic National Committee to hold what used to be called normal Republican Districts may be negated by the war and the attendant money troubles that are giving Lyndon Johnson that preoccupied look.

Johnson's efforts to control the outflow of dollars are hitting some unanticipated snags. The disparity between European and U. S. interest rates has continued to pull American capital abroad despite the interest equalization tax. The "voluntary restraints" on Foreign investment of American money are about to be strengthened, which means that, actually, they will be less voluntary.

Johnson's heart is in the Great Society. But the sort of defeat in South Vietnam, that is implicit in Ho Chi Minh's "offer" of a peace that would put the Viet Cong in control of the sensitive departments of government, could very well kill his control of Congress, to say nothing of losing him the 1968 election. The question is how can he pay for concluding the war on acceptable terms and still manage to satisfy the demands of the Great Society? Between the needs of Secretary of Defense McNamara and the begging cup of Sargent Shriver, Johnson has no way out short of new taxes or a rebuff to the expectations of the office of Economic Opportunity and similar engines of welfare. In either case it spells trouble in 1966 at the polls.

Each of us 192-million Americans would have $184 if all the money in circulation in the United States was divided equally, according to a recent Washington estimate. Sounds better if you say that totals $354 billions — A whole lot better!

It's also estimated if all the money owed on installment debts were divided equally we'd each owe $316. That's a difference of $132 or 13,200 red cents — definitely in the red!

That above figures back up what we've always said — you just can't win!

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of living is higher now for most American families than ever before. Most base their planning on the likelihood it will go still higher.

This is the simple arithmetic of family budgets. The variations in the government's monthly Consumer Price Index seem to make little difference. Nor is the current hassle over the need to ward off further monetary inflation likely to mean much to most families.

What does matter is the monthly bills. And, for one reason or another, they tend to be higher.

Prices of a few basic items are lower now than a few years back. Then why does the family outlay always seem to climb a bit year after year?

One reason is the demand of the family itself for more expensive goods. It doesn't settle today for the quality it accepted in yesteryears. It is living higher on the hog.

The family demands, and gets, improved products. Producing these improvements may have added to the store price. Most families wouldn't go back to wood burning kitchen stoves and root cellars even if they could save money by giving up electric or gas stoves and freezers.

Families also pay more now for conveniences once unavailable — whether it be sliced bread, or seafood flown in from the coasts, or vegetables frozen after cleaning and often after cooking.

Dear Mrs. D.: When patients are told that they have a disorder that needs attention, the medical consultation is not complete until all their questions are thoroughly answered. A hiatus hernia is an enlarged opening in the diaphragm that separates the abdomen from the chest cavity. The esophagus, the tube which carries food from the mouth to the stomach, passes through the diaphragm.

When the diaphragmatic opening is enlarged, a small part of the stomach sometimes becomes displaced through it. This is responsible, especially in the elderly, for the vague symptoms of indigestion, belching and difficulty in swallowing.

The symptoms of hiatus hernia can usually be controlled by small repeated feedings, never overloading at one meal. Antispasmodic drugs can help relieve the discomfort.

Surgery for hiatus hernia is performed only after careful consideration in patients who are incapacitated by the condition or by its complications.

Under medical supervision hiatus hernia should not be a threat to your physical or emotional well-being.

Learn to do artificial resuscitation. It is the best investment in someone's life.

But, with the Vietnam war threatening to force a Pentagon budget of $60 billion, this sort of munificence can hardly continue. The freshmen Congressmen are having other troubles. A Long Island Representative, inviting his constituents to meet with him for a talk, found himself in the middle of a hectic argument about the war, with shouts going up that Johnson had taken over the Goldwater policy. The Republicans in the district, who had seen their own candidate beaten on the Goldwater issue, are keeping their peace and smiling.

So the efforts of the Democratic National Committee to hold what used to be called normal Republican Districts may be negated by the war and the attendant money troubles that are giving Lyndon Johnson that preoccupied look.

Johnson's efforts to control the outflow of dollars are hitting some unanticipated snags. The disparity between European and U. S. interest rates has continued to pull American capital abroad despite the interest equalization tax. The "voluntary restraints" on Foreign investment of American money are about to be strengthened, which means that, actually, they will be less voluntary.

Johnson's heart is in the Great Society. But the sort of defeat in South Vietnam, that is implicit in Ho Chi Minh's "offer" of a peace that would put the Viet Cong in control of the sensitive departments of government, could very well kill his control of Congress, to say nothing of losing him the 1968 election. The question is how can he pay for concluding the war on acceptable terms and still manage to satisfy the demands of the Great Society? Between the needs of Secretary of Defense McNamara and the begging cup of Sargent Shriver, Johnson has no way out short of new taxes or a rebuff to the expectations of the office of Economic Opportunity and similar engines of welfare. In either case it spells trouble in 1966 at the polls.

Each of us 192-million Americans would have $184 if all the money in circulation in the United States was divided equally, according to a recent Washington estimate. Sounds better if you say that totals $354 billions — A whole lot better!

It's also estimated if all the money owed on installment debts were divided equally we'd each owe $316. That's a difference of $132 or 13.290 red cents — definitely in the red!

That above figures back up what we've always said — you just can't win!

LBJ's Peace Offensive Is Given Push

Informed sources here expected that Harriman might go on to Hungary, another third party channel to Hanoi, and perhaps to Yugoslavia, leader of a group of nonaligned countries favoring Viet Nam negotiations, before returning to Washington.

Goldberg, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, arrived in Rome secretly aboard a presidential jet and spent one hour in private audience with the Pope. The American embassy said Goldberg conveyed Johnson's gratitude to the pontiff for the "continuous efforts he is making in furthering peace in Southeast Asia."

It was anticipated that Goldberg too might do some further traveling.

In Moscow, U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler paid what was described as a courtesy call on the new Soviet president, Niko-lai V. Podgorny. Russian party leader Alexander N. Shelepin is slated to visit Hanoi shortly. However, Washington sources declined to relate this directly to the current maneuvering over negotiations to end the war.

According to U.S. authorities, the Soviets might come to a peace conference on Viet Nam because they are less interested in pushing the conflict than their Communist rival, Red China. But they would not attend unless North Viet Nam does — and Hanoi has yet to show a willingness to negotiate.

These U.S. authorities stated that while parts of Hanoi's four-point proposal for a settlement, reaffirmed Wednesday by Ho, would be negotiable, the over-all effect would be to turn over South Viet Nam to the Reds. They said the United States will not accept this and nothing can be done about negotiating the individual points until North Viet Nam agrees to negotiations.

Ho's statement called for withdrawal of U.S. troops from the South — which is Washington's avowed aim following a settlement — but also demanded what U.S. diplomats said would be American endorsement of the Communist program in the South.

Meanwhile, the guerrilla combat in South Viet Nam continued and the Johnson administration was preparing for the possibility — some called it the probability — that the Reds will choose to fight on.

U.S. reconnaissance planes ranged over North Viet Nam to observe Communist movements during the lull and presumably indicate targets to be hit if the bombing resumes.

About 4,000 more jungle-trained soldiers from the U.S. 25th Infantry Division flew Wednesday from Hawaii to Pleiku, raising the American armed forces total in South Viet Nam to about 184,000.

Congressional leaders voiced little optimism that the bombing suspension would produce peace feelers from Hanoi. Some said they are afraid the Reds would use the pause to move fresh supplies to the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen called the suspension of aerial attacks a "waiting out period" which may disclose whether there is any willingness on the part of Hanoi officials to negotiate.

Dirksen, a staunch defender in the past of President Johnson's course in Viet Nam, said in a telephone interview he has had no communication from the President or other administration officials about the bombing pause.

"We can only speculate that this pause in the bombing might

America's Role Assessed

Viet Nam War Looms As Big Political Issue

EDITOR'S NOTE—Next year is an election year and the Viet Nam war is bound to loom large in the political consciousness. Already there are sounds of issues being hammered together. This last of four articles on America's role in Viet Nam reports on its impact on the political front.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans will bound back to Washington next month confident that President Johnson faces decisions on Viet Nam and the economy which are likely to boost the GOP's political stock.

As Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan see it, Johnson must make the difficult choice between inflation or a slowdown in his "Great Society" programs if he is to provide the substantial increase in Viet Nam spending even the administration regards as inevitable.

There have been estimates that the rising costs of the Southeast Asia conflict may add $10 billion to the military budget in a year.

Curiously, that is exactly the amount the politically powerful AFL-CIO wants the President to put into education, from elementary school to college, in the same period of time. This represents only one source of the tremendous pressures that will be brought on Johnson to keep various programs rolling in high gear.

"As I see it," Ford said, "the President has the alternative of cutting back on his domestic programs, raising taxes or rolling up a big inflationary budget."

He certainly isn't going to recommend raising taxes. If he backs down on the programs he pushed so hard to get in the last session, he is going to undercut a lot of Democratic candidates who are depending on them for election. If he yields to inflation, he is going to hear from the country in no uncertain terms."

Dirksen said in a separate interview he looks for an administration effort to crowd into this fiscal year, which ends next June 30, as much supplemental spending as possible. This would tend to hold down the total of the new budget to be submitted in January.

produce some new peace feelers," Dirksen said. "I just hope, however, it doesn't provide the enemy with a breathing spell to regroup and gain some strategic advantages. There is always danger of that."

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, who recently returned from a tour during which he and four colleagues discussed the Viet Nam situation in 16 European and Asian capitals, was represented as favoring an extension of the suspension in bombing.

Mansfield, not available for direct comment, was said to have told friends he hopes the pause in attacks on North Viet Nam will continue into the Jan. 20-23 lunar new year period in which the Viet Cong has offered a truce to South Vietnamese forces.

"There will be stiff opposition to any such deceptive practice," he said.

Administration officials already have estimated that current year spending will run between $105 billion and $107 billion, instead of the $99.7 billion estimated last January. Because revenues are up, they figure the June 30 deficit will range between $7 billion and $8 billion.

Republicans believe the psychological impact of a new January budget estimate of more than $100 billion in spending will dramatize their contention that Johnson is taking the country into an era of inflation.

If this is followed by increases in the prices of food, appliances, automobiles, services and all of the things the average family buys, they believe disgruntled consumers will take it out on the Democrats at the polls in congressional races next November.

To emphasize any cut-backs Johnson might make in domestic aid programs, the Republican Policy Coordinating Committee expects to have soon a report on the impact on such programs of increased Viet Nam expenditures. This presumably will spell out for the beneficiaries just what they aren't going to get if Johnson clamps down to make way for war expenditures.

Because they didn't want to be accused of displaying American disunity abroad, the Republicans on the whole have been restrained in criticizing Johnson's course in Viet Nam.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren
Slow Down, Mom!

DEAR ABBY: Last night our daughter phoned from college to tell us that she is engaged and plans to marry as soon as she graduates this summer. We have met the young man, and he seems decent enough. However, we don't know his family, he is not of our religion, and we know he has no money, only a brand new job he may or may not wish to keep. Do we just sit by and let our daughter decide on something she will have to live with the rest of her life? You'd think she would have discussed these details with us before setting a date. What should we do?

MOM AND DAD

DEAR MOM AND DAD: What choice have you? You daughter called and INFORMED you of her intentions to wed. But hands off the panic button. Think it over and talk it over. Your daughter is no longer a child. Don't assume the young people are heading for disaster just because they don't have it made right now. They could surprise you.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is I am working at a store and I am not supposed to get any personal calls here. I have asked my family and friends not to call me at work, but I don't think they understand English. This morning my mother called about something that could have waited until I got home. Then my sister called to read me a part of a letter she'd just received. Then my boy friend called about some stupid matter. My boss was very much annoyed after that third call, and told me if I got one more phone call at work he would have to let me go. Abby, how can I make people understand they are not to call me? I can't afford to lose this job.

LAST WARNING

DEAR LAST: There must be something about the way you say "no" that sounds like "maybe." Tell those who are likely to call you that if they call once more, it will mean your job. And if they call, face it—they don't have your best interests at heart.

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school sophomore who has been going with a senior (I'll call Mike) for about three months. Mike is very polite and mannerly and my folks liked him until they found out his father is a garbage man. Now I don't think it's right to hold this against Mike because he can't help what his father does for a living. My mother tells me that a garbage man's son is not in my class, socially. Yet Mike's father lives as nicely as we do, and I know garbage men make good money. My whole family teases me about "the garbage man's son" and it hurts because I really like him. What can I do?

LIKES MIKE

DEAR LIKES: Collecting garbage is a respectable way to make a living, so don't let anybody knock it. Mike does not have to apologize for his father's job. But you may have to apologize for your parents' snobbishness.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A joint committee is expected to come up early next year with a host of recommendations for modernizing Congress.

But if any proposals involve significant changes in the operation or structure of Congress, they aren't likely to get anywhere.

The 12-member committee of six senators and six representatives was created by Congress last March and was given $150,000 to finance its studies and hearings. It has held numerous public hearings and is due to go out of business on Jan. 31.

Many of the recommendations made to the committee by congressional students both inside and outside of Congress would require changes which the practical politicians don't seem ready to accept.

One of the dominant proposals has been to abolish the seniority system of advancement in the Senate and the House. Under the present system, a member can aspire to becoming a committee chairman or at least chairman of a major subcommittee simply by getting re-elected often enough.

Much of the clamor for a change — to rotate chairmanships or provide for election of chairmen in party caucuses — has come from members fairly well down on the seniority list. Most senior members want to change that might keep them from getting to the top or might curb their tenure once they got there. It's these older and well-established members who usually call the shots in Congress.

Republicans, as well as non-partisan students, have advocated stronger staffing for minority members of committees. If the joint committee should adopt this proposal, Congress might go along with it. It would provide more appointive, highly paid jobs.

Congress also might go along with recommendations to provide additional staffing for individual members. This, too, would provide some more good jobs and could result in more efficient service for constituents.

The Joint Committee on Congressional Reorganization was created to see what it could do about complaints that the congressional machinery was too antiquated and needed overhauling.

Not since 1946 has there been a congressional reorganization act. A joint committee that year made almost 40 recommendations, many of which were ignored.

Congress did approve 1946 recommendations raising its pay and making members eligible for pensions.

The 1946 act called for a reduction in the number of standing committees, but the cut was more than offset by the birth of scores of special and subcommittees.

Opponents of any major changes in the congressional machinery have a strong argument going for them. The 1965 session, operating under the 1946 framework, set a record for legislative accomplishment. Its leaders aren't too enthusiastic about tinkering with the machinery.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A joint committee is expected to come up early next year with a host of recommendations for modernizing Congress.

But if any proposals involve significant changes in the operation or structure of Congress, they aren't likely to get anywhere.

The 12-member committee of six senators and six representatives was created by Congress last March and was given $150,000 to finance its studies and hearings. It has held numerous public hearings and is due to go out of business on Jan. 31.

Many of the recommendations made to the committee by congressional students both inside and outside of Congress would require changes which the practical politicians don't seem ready to accept.

One of the dominant proposals has been to abolish the seniority system of advancement in the Senate and the House. Under the present system, a member can aspire to becoming a committee chairman or at least chairman of a major subcommittee simply by getting re-elected often enough.

Much of the clamor for a change — to rotate chairmanships or provide for election of chairmen in party caucuses — has come from members fairly well down on the seniority list. Most senior members want no change that might keep them from getting to the top or might curb their tenure once they got there. It's these older and well-established members who usually call the shots in Congress.

Republicans, as well as non-partisan students, have advocated stronger staffing for minority members of committees. If the joint committee should adopt this proposal Congress might go along with it. It would provide more appointive, highly paid jobs.

Congress also might go along with recommendations to provide additional staffing for individual members. This, too, would provide some more good jobs and could result in more efficient service for constituents.

The Joint Committee on Congressional Reorganization was created to see what it could do about complaints that the congressional machinery was too antiquated and needed overhauling.

Not since 1946 has there been a congressional reorganization act. A joint committee that year made almost 40 recommendations, many of which were ignored.

Congress did approve 1946 recommendations raising its pay and making members eligible for pensions.

The 1946 act called for a reduction in the number of standing committees, but the cut was more than offset by the birth of scores of special and subcommittees.

Opponents of any major changes in the congressional machinery have a strong argument going for them. The 1965 session, operating under the 1946 framework, set a record for legislative accomplishment. Its leaders aren't too enthusiastic about tinkering with the machinery.

Ohio's 83rd Division Is Inactivated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's famed 83rd Infantry Division has been inactivated after 48 years of service, including combat in Europe in the two world wars.

Brig. Gen. Robert C. Tyler, division commander, and Brig. Gen. Robert K. Benson Jr., commander of the 20th Army Corps, presided over nostalgic phasing-out ceremonies Wednesday at the Fort Hayes Hotel.

"As a new year approaches, you will lay down your arms as a member of the 83rd Infantry Division, but pick them up again as an individual citizen soldier in some other assignment still fighting for one goal, peace throughout the world," Benson said.

Men of the division are to be assigned to a pool which other units can draw upon.

The division has been on reserve duty since 1946 in Ohio and West Virginia, and has been scheduled for deactivation since last fall.

Nehemiah

A MAN COMPLETES A GREAT TASK DESPITE FORMIDABLE OPPOSITION

Scripture—Nehemiah 1:1-6:3, 12:27-13:31.

By R. H. RAMSEY
It is fitting that this series of Old Testament biographies should end with a lesson on Nehemiah, for this man, who rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem against formidable opposition, is one of the most modern of Bible characters. A man of principle and deep, abiding faith, he was a man suited to the requirements of every age. Given a business suit and briefcase he could step into modern life and become a leading factor in a great enterprise.

Some 50 years after Nebuchadnezzar's destruction of Jerusalem, Cyrus, king of Persia, issued a decree permitting some of the Jews to return to Palestine. Under Zerubbabel, the Temple and some of the homes and other buildings of Jerusalem had been rebuilt. However, the reconstruction was hindered by "adversaries" and it took an official decree from Darius to allow the Jews to complete their rebuilding in peace.

In the opening chapter of Nehemiah we find that word

GOLDEN TEXT

"And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it."—Psalms 90:17.

has been brought to him that the people of Jerusalem were afflicted, that the walls of the city remained in ruins and the gates burned. In those days walls around the cities were necessary for protection against raiders and marauders. Without walls the people of Jerusalem were at the mercy of every passing brigand.

The long periods spent in prayer and soul-searching began to show as a great sadness upon the face of Nehemiah, cupbearer to King Artaxerxes of Persia. Later, when he brought a cup of wine to Artaxerxes, the king asked Nehemiah why he was so sad. He replied that it was because of the condition of his people in Judah. The king then gave Nehemiah permission to go to aid in rebuilding Jerusalem's walls.

He arrived safely in Jerusalem and found his troubles just beginning. His efforts were continually opposed by "foreigners," Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arab. Ridicule, threats, greed, deception, intrigue and treachery were used pleted and solemnly dedicated. Nehemiah set appropriate guards about it and appointed priests and Levites to various duties within the now-safe city.

Though the wall was complete, Nehemiah's troubles were not over. Political, economic, social and religious problems faced him; and it was time for him to return to Persia to keep his promise to Artaxerxes.

In his absence a great religious revival swept over Jerusalem. The Book of Moses was once again read publicly, and a covenant promising obedience to the Law was made by the people.

Nonetheless, on his return to Jerusalem, Nehemiah had to institute further reforms. The Temple was cleansed, long overdue salaries of the priests paid, Sabbath violations ceased, and the people were "cleansed of foreigners" as Nehemiah inveighed against the practice of intermarriage with persons from the uncircumcised nations surrounding Judah.

New Auto Safety Laws Due Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New laws designed to prevent highway accidents and to relieve financial loss when they occur become effective with the new year, State Insurance Commissioner William R. Morris has reminded Ohioans.

Morris pointed Tuesday to new statutes requiring front seat belts in all new cars manufactured for sale in Ohio and requiring insurance companies to provide uninsured motorists coverage.

Insurance companies will be required to provide coverage against uninsured motorists unless deleted at the written request of liability policy holders. It will cost an average of about $3 a year and will extend protection up to $10,000 for individuals and $20,000 for each accident, he said.

New Auto Safety Laws Due Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New laws designed to prevent highway accidents and to relieve financial loss when they occur become effective with the new year, State Insurance Commissioner R. Morris has reminded Ohioans.

Morris pointed Tuesday to new statutes requiring front seat belts in all new cars manufactured for sale in Ohio and requiring insurance companies to provide uninsured motorists' coverage.

Insurance companies will be required to provide coverage against uninsured motorists unless deleted at the written request of liability policy holders. It will cost an average of about $3 a year and will extend protection up to $10,000 for individuals and $20,000 for each accident, he said.

Nehemiah

A MAN COMPLETES A GREAT TASK DESPITE FORMIDABLE OPPOSITION

Scripture—Nehemiah 1:1-6:15; 12:27-13:31.

By R. H. RAMSEY

It is fitting that this series of Old Testament biographies should end with a lesson on Nehemiah, for this man, who rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem against formidable opposition, is one of the most modern of Bible characters. A man of principle and deep, abiding faith, he was a man suited to the requirements of every age. Given a business suit and briefcase he could step into modern life and become a leading factor in a great enterprise.

Some 50 years after Nebuchadnezzar's destruction of Jerusalem, Cyrus, king of Persia, issued a decree permitting some of the Jews to return to Palestine. Under Zerubbabel, the Temple and some of the homes and other buildings of Jerusalem had been rebuilt. However, the reconstruction was hindered by "adversaries" and it took an official decree from Darius to allow the Jews to complete their rebuilding in peace.

In the opening chapter of Nehemiah we find that word

has been brought to him that the people of Jerusalem were afflicted, that the walls of the city remained in ruins and the gates burned. In those days walls around the cities were necessary for protection against raiders and marauders. Without walls the people of Jerusalem were at the mercy of every passing brigand.

The long periods spent in prayer and soul-searching began to show as a great sadness upon the face of Nehemiah, cupbearer to King Artaxerxes of Persia. Later, when he brought a cup of wine to Artaxerxes, the king asked Nehemiah why he was so sad. He replied that it was because of the condition of his people in Judah. The king then gave Nehemiah permission to go to aid in rebuilding Jerusalem's walls.

He arrived safely in Jerusalem and found his troubles just beginning. His efforts were continually opposed by "foreigners," Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arab. Ridicule, threats, greed, deception, intrigue and treachery were used.

Westfall Tops Unioto, 71-59 In SVC Battle

Westfall's Mustangs made it six wins in a row Wednesday night as they topped visiting Unioto, 71-59, in a Scioto Valley Conference game.

The Mustangs are 2-0 in the conference while the Sher-mans of Don Neff are 1-2 in loop standings. Their other loss was to Logan Elm and the win was over Laurelville.

Both teams fought on even terms throughout the first half last night.

The score at the end of the first quarter was knotted, 11-11. By halftime, the Mustangs held a slight edge, 28-26.

RIGHT after the second half began, Jim Echard converted a field goal that tied the score. But a seven - point surge that saw Tom Scribner and Ray Mowery tally two points each while Tom Beard was scoring three put Westfall ahead for good.

From that point on, the Sher-mans were forced to play a catch up game. They were never able to get closer than five points.

By the time the third quarter reached an end, Westfall had notched 22 more points to bring its total to 50, while the pressing defense of the Mustangs shut Unioto off with 12 points.

Both teams tallied 21 markers in the final canto. But the Sher-mans were too far behind to rally for the necessary points to win.

Neil Coleman, hitting effectively from outside on a one hand jump shot, paced the Westfall offense by tallying 23 markers.

Tom Beard also broke into double figure scoring column with a 13-point effort.

FOR THE visiting Unioto quintet, Glen Cokenough had 12 points. Dale Haynes and Jim Echard 11 each.

Westfall will host Zane Trace in a non-conference game on Jan. 7.

Charity to Wilt Defeats Pistons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are going so badly for the Detroit Pistons that Wilt Chamberlain is beating them from the foul line.

The Pistons, who've managed just nine victories in 34 National Basketball Association games this season, thought they had one wrapped up against Philadelphia Wednesday night. But after Chamberlain's foul shot with no time left on the clock, they finished on the short end of a 113-112 decision.

Elsewhere in the NBA Wednesday, Boston shaded New York 99-96, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 111-109 and Baltimore walloped San Francisco, 144-111.

Chamberlain, one of the league's poorer foul shooters, made only six of 3 free-throw attempts during the game and has the worst foul shooting percentage on the Philadelphia club. He led the 76ers with 34 points.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Golfer Ken Venturi filed a $16,000 suit against Security Benefit Life Insurance Co. today.

In an action brought in Superior Court in this San Francisco Peninsula city, Venturi charged that the firm had refused to pay the bills for a year-long disability resulting from a nerve injury to his hands and wrists.

The suit said Venturi's insurance policy was issued in February 1962 and still active at the time of the injury, October 1964.

6-Foot-9 Southern Cal Star Strips Vanderbilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Until the semifinal round of the Los Angeles Basketball Classic, John Block's primary distinction was that he was the tallest starter Coach Forrest Twogood ever had in his 16 years at Southern California.

Now he can boast of being a Commodore Killer.

Block's two free throws with four seconds to play gave Southern California a 74-72 victory over Vanderbilt Wednesday night and knocked the Commodores, the nation's second-ranked team, from the list of unbeaten.

The free throws, however, were only the final act in Block's performance. He scored 32 points in all, six more than Vanderbilt ace Clyde Lee, Lee poured in 39 the night before.

Included in the total for the 6-foot-9 Block was a field goal that tied the game 72-72 with 2:21 remaining.

The victory put Southern California into tonight's final against archrival UCLA, which defeated Purdue 82-70.

The Los Angeles Classic is only one of many tournament titles that will be decided tonight.

Three of the bigger ones are the Holiday Festival at New York — Providence vs. Boston College; the Quaker City at Philadelphia — St. Joseph's vs. Temple; and the All-College at Oklahoma City vs. Virginia Tech.

St. Joseph's, the nation's eighth-ranked team, rolled into the Quaker final by crushing ninth-ranked Minnesota 91-65 behind the clutch scoring of Billy Oakes. Minnesota hit only 14 per cent of its shots in the first half.

Temple downed LaSalle 66-53 in overtime, clinching the victory with six straight free throws.

Oklahoma City stormed past Rhode Island 191-89 as Jerry Wells and Gary Gray combined for 55 points. Then Virginia Tech edged top-seeded Wichita State 91-90 on John Wetzel's two free throws with 10 seconds left.

Among the tournaments that ended, titles were won by Princeton, New Mexico, Columbia and Evansville.

John Haarlow and Gary Walters sparked Princeton to a 62-47 triumph over Navy in the Charlotte Invitational while Mel Daniels scored 27 points in New Mexico's 99-81 victory over Idaho in the Lobo Invitational.

Columbia rolled past Brown 83-63 in the Kodak Classic at Rochester, N.Y., behind the scoring of 7-foot-1 Dave Newmark and Stan Felsinger.

Evansville, the nation's No. 1 small-college team, won its own tournament by ripping Marquette 88-86 on Sam Watkins' jump shot with two seconds left.

In games for third place in those tournaments, Davidson defeated Mississippi State 72-60, Tulane edged Texas Christian 82-80, Pitt stopped Rochester 69-65 in overtime and Kent State nipped Yale 77-75.

Nebraska made it to the finals of the Big Eight tournament for the first time in the 20-year history, defeating Oklahoma 92-79 behind the combined 52-point performance by Nate Branch and Grant Simmons.

The Cornhuskers meet Kansas for the title tonight following the Jayhawkers' 73-66 decision over Iowa State.

Oregon State and Stanford will clash for the Far West Classic title. Oregon State upset Arizona State 56-46, and Stanford stopped Utah State 83-79.

Fourth-ranked Iowa moved into the finals of the Sun Carnival at El Paso, Tex., against Texas Western by edging Arkansas 77-75 on Jerry Jones' tip in with one second to play. Texas Western clubbed Loyola of New Orleans 93-56.

Unbeaten Dayton ran its streak to eight straight, stopping previously undefeated Auburn 85-71, and will play in the Sugar Bowl final against Maryland, which trimmed Houston 69-68 on Neil Brayton's jump shot with 17 seconds left.

Carver Clinton, the first Negro to play in the Gator Bowl, sparked Penn State to a 68-66 triumph over Alabama. The Lions will meet Florida, which upset DePaul 72-64.

In tournament consolation games involving members of the Top Ten, sixth-ranked Brigham Young topped St. Bonaventure 99-87, and No. 7 Michigan defeated Air Force 83-74. In a non-tournament contest, fifth-ranked Kentucky crushed Notre Dame 103-69.

Venturi Sues Insurance Firm

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Golfer Ken Venturi filed a $16,000 suit against Security Benefit Life Insurance Co. to day.

In an action brought in Superior Court in this San Francisco Peninsula city, Venturi charged that the firm had refused to pay the bills for a year-long disability resulting from a nerve injury to his hands and wrists.

The suit said Venturi's insurance policy was issued in February 1962 and still active at the time of the injury, October 1964.

Crop Economics School Set For Two Days Next Month

Pickaway County farmers will have an opportunity to participate in a Crop Economics School scheduled Jan. 11 and 12 at the First Methodist Church in Mt. Sterling.

The two-day school is being sponsored by the Area Extension office in cooperation with the County Extension office. The session will begin at 9:30 a. m.

The first session will deal primarily with crop production economics. Al Baxter, agronomist for the Washington Court House Area Extension Center, will discuss soil capabilities, managing for potential yields and fitting crops to land capabilities.

Crop production costs, returns and crop production economics will be discussed by C. R. Blue, Area Farm Management agent.

THE PROGRAM for the second day will include the economics of storing and marketing grain. J. D. Blicke and W.

Business Briefs

A major reduction of Federal excise tax on telephone service takes effect on Jan. 1, Robert M. Wopat of Marion, president of General Telephone Co. of Ohio, reminded customers today.

The tax on local and long distance service will be lowered from the present 10 per cent to three per cent. This is the result of legislation enacted by Congress last summer.

Wopat pointed out that each succeeding Jan. 1, the tax will be further reduced by one per cent. By 1969 the entire 10 per cent Federal excise tax on telephone service will be eliminated.

"The savings to General of Ohio customers in 1966," he noted, "will amount to more than $2.5 million. We are pleased this inequitable tax is being removed."

Wopat reminded customers that no excise tax revenues have ever gone to the telephone company. The company merely has been a tax collector for the U. S. government. The tax was enacted as a temporary measure during World War II.

West Virginia Battles Its Pesky 'Gob Piles'

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—New England had its power failure, Florida and Louisiana have hurricanes, and California has forest fires and mud slides. But West Virginia has the most gob piles.

In fact, what well may be the world's largest gob pile is located at Quinwood, in the southeastern section of the state near the Virginia border. It is two miles long, tall as a five-story building, 100 feet wide—and has been burning for half a century.

What are gob piles? According to Gov. Hulett C. Smith, they are "miserable mounds of smoldering fumes that smell like Hades."

Gob piles are coal mine refuse banks and West Virginia has more than 500 within its borders. About half are burning. The others could ignite at any time.

This situation is a source of irritation to the state officials whose job it is to keep the piles in check. The coal refuse bank, many of which have been burning for 50 years, contribute to West Virginia's air pollution problems, mar the scenery and kill nearby vegetation.

"And there have been cases," says West Virginia Health Director N. H. Dyer, "where children playing on the crusts of the burning gobbs have fallen through into the fiery interior and were incinerated."

"From a pollution standpoint," he said, "gob piles don't constitute a major health hazard unless they're located near a community. But they're much more than just a nuisance."

One aspect of the battle is that they're nearly indestructible. These unwanted byproducts of the coal industry have increased in number and size during the years. The need for higher quality coal will mean new and larger gob piles.

"Gob piles usually are mixtures of many materials and elements," said Carl Beard, chairman of the West Virginia Air Pollution Control Commission. "An average coal refuse bank is composed of broken timbers, rock, discarded machine parts, slag, grease-soaked rags and decaying matter."

Beard says a mature gob pile produces sulphur dioxide, which kills vegetation; hydrogen sulphide, and carbon monoxide which occasionally kills people. He cites instances during recent winters where persons seeking the warmth of the gob pile have been asphyxiated.

The state requires all coal companies to post "no trespassing" signs around their gob piles. The companies also must register all banks on their property.

"Keeping people away from gob piles is one of our biggest problems," Beard said. "Most piles are accidentally ignited by persons living in the area, although a few companies occasionally will ignite the banks deliberately in order to obtain 'red dog slag,' a residue which makes an excellent road base material."

While several companies have temporarily extinguished their banks by tightly compressing the waste material, there is no permanent method within the state's economic means.

Food Stamp Plan Headed for Expansion in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A federal program to give poor families more grocery money will have its biggest year in Ohio in 1966.

Up to 18 more counties could be added to the four already signed for the program, which gives food stamps to low income families to supplement their own grocery money.

At the same time, the program is intended to help ease the burden of surplus food the federal government must bear.

Three counties which already have food stamp plans in operation have received a total of nearly $4.5 million. More than 33,000 families are helped under these programs.

A fourth county, Franklin, has signed up for the food stamps but hasn't gotten its program going yet.

Lucas was the first Ohio county to try the food stamps, an Agriculture Department program designed to replace distribution of federally owned surplus commodities to families on welfare rolls. Lucas was one of 25 counties across the country chosen for an experimental food stamp program which started Dec. 1, 1962.

Cuyahoga County joined up in 1964, after the program was made permanent, and Hamilton County came in last April.

Summit County ranks first on a priority list of 18 other counties which have been recommended for additions to the program, under which poor families buy stamps with their own money, then get bonuses of extra stamps based on their need and their own food funds.

There is no assurance that the Agriculture Department will follow state priorities, though, said Robert Canary, assistant state welfare director. He expects more counties to be certified for the program during 1966, but it will be up to the federal agency to decide which ones.

Others on the priority list, in order, are: Montgomery, Stark, Scioto, Mahoning, Lorain, Lawrence, Trumbull, Ross, Clark, Jefferson, Muskingum, Jackson, Athens, Allen, Pike, Richland and Lake.

Priorities are established on the basis of interest by county welfare departments and the number of families on various welfare programs.

The federal government still passes out surplus commodities to welfare families in counties which don't have stamp programs. And it still distributes foodstuffs to schools and other institutions.

But the food stamp program is better for those getting the aid. They can use stamps to buy foods they prefer, rather than taking whatever might be available from surplus commodities.

All families on welfare qualify automatically for food stamp aid. Families not on welfare but with low incomes may also ask for stamps.

A family of four is eligible, for instance, if its total income is less than $260 a month and total household assets and resources don't exceed $500.

A family of four which buys $40 worth of stamps a month with its own money might get a bonus of $24 in stamps. Lucas County families have received $2.2 million in bonuses, but have bought $5.9 million worth of stamps with their own money.

CCA Names Behrmann to Plant Staff

Container Corporation of America's engineering department has announced the addition of Otto Behrmann to the staff of the Circleville Mill in the capacity of project engineer.

OTTO BEHRMANN

Behrmann will be assigned to equipment improvement projects and center his attention on maintenance engineering, according to John O'Brien, plant manager at Circleville for Container.

A native of New York City, Behrmann received his BS degree in mechanical engineering from City College of New York. His experience includes field engineering for Beloit Corporation, material and process engineering for North American Aviation, and missile work as a Lt. (j.g.) for 3½ years with the U.S. Navy.

The project engineer resides with his wife, Janet, and two children at 556 N. Pickaway St.

May its arrival herald the coming of good luck, success and happiness for our customers and friends!

GOP Schedules Study Of Big-City Politics
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican party is planning to act on a four-year-old study of big-city politics.

GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss announced Tuesday that financial troubles had delayed implementation of the proposals in the report.

Among the report's recommendations was one that every major city have a fulltime chairman of executive director to oversee party organization.

Bliss also told a news conference that the national committee will provide assistance and manpower where it is needed to help revive GOP city organizations, work with minority groups and aid in research and public relations.
